Policy

ACC follows all legislative requirements in regards to Privacy. These include the Federal Privacy Act, 1988 and Amendments 2001; Federal Privacy Regulations, 2001 and NSW Freedom of Information Act, 1989. ACC's Policies and Procedures regarding privacy and access to information is based on the National Privacy Principles, extracted from the Privacy Amendment (Private Sector) Act, 2001.

Procedure

- ACC will take all measures to ensure the security and confidentiality of staff, client and course participant information; These include:
 - locked filing cabinets ,
 - secure online data storage with password protection
 - password protection on all computers.
- ACC will not share, sell or give away any information collected about its staff, clients or course participants to any other entity. Where required by legislation for government funded programs, ACC will disclose participant details as required and with the permission of participants provided in writing during the enrolment process.
- All ACC employees, trainers and contactors will be briefed on laws related to access to information during the induction process.
- Permission will be obtained for all photographs.

General Confidentiality

- Employees and contractors will be required to sign a non-disclosure statement and declaration of confidentiality as part of their Employment Contract; and
- Information about ACC operations are not to be disclosed to any person or organisation other than official channels such as ASQA.

Access to Participant Information

- Course participants are able to access their file at any time by sending an email to admin@atkinsonchildcarecollege.com.au. This form will be provided to the individual person personally, by mail, fax or email and must be signed by the owner of the information before any information it is released;
- Current course participants are able to liaise with their trainers regarding current progress without writing.
- No information can be given to any other person without the express permission in writing from the owner the information.
- On receiving the completed information request form ACC administrative staff will confirm the person's identity by citing one form of identification (e.g. Driver's licence, electricity bill, signed credit card), one of which must be photo identification. If it is not possible for the individual requesting the information to be personally present (e.g. lives interstate), they must provide certified photocopies of their photo licence or identification card and a Statutory Declaration expressing their permission to have their information released to a specified person or with specific mailing details;
- All copies of identification are placed on participants files with the completed information request form. ACC managers are to sign off on the information request form, copy and mail or give the required information. No originals are to be given out at any time;
- Mailed documents will be sent by registered mail. The participant will be made aware that they will be required to sign for the documents on arrival; and
- Requested material will be issued as soon as possible within a maximum of 5 business days.

Storage of Records upon closure of RTO or business

In the case of closure of the RTO or Atkinson Training & Development, ACC management will seek the advice from the National registering body (ASQA) regarding the safe storage of participant and required records.
